EUROPE – NATO/US THREATS AND CONSEQUENCES

Europe, with 31 NATO member states (22 of them EU member states) is actively taking part in encircling Russia. US nuclear weapons are based across Europe. Large military exercises are polluting air and land. NATO use of DU-weapons in the 90's Balkans war have left a toxic legacy causing serious health problems among civilians and soldiers. Some NATO states are supplying these radioactive weapons for use by the Ukrainian army. Defence spending across Europe is increasing at an alarming rate.

SIDE EVENT - PROTEST ACTION: INVEST IN PEACE
(20 min by metro from Pianofabrik to the Albertina Square)

Belgian and international peace and woman organisations are calling for a protest action against NATO plans to further increase military spending at the upcoming Vilnius summit in July.

Rising military spending cannot be justified while budgetary needs for nurseries, public transport, education, reception of asylum-seekers, health care, climate change mitigation and adaptation,... are so high.

We call on policymakers to curb rising military spending and make human security a priority by investing in social and environmental protection.

19.30 – 21.30 (1:30 pm ET/10:30 am PT)
SIDE EVENT - GLOBAL NATO OR GLOBAL PEACE? organized by No to war No to NATO & Belgian peace organization

Hybrid, public panel discussion. Just a few years ago even powerful leaders declared NATO 'obsolete' or 'brain-dead'. Since the Russian invasion of Ukraine the credibility and legitimacy of the western military alliance seems greater than ever before. Finland, formerly a neutral country, became a new member. Sweden will soon follow. Political opposition to the massive arming of Ukraine - which keeps the war going, rising military budgets and the militarisation of Europe is virtually non-existent within NATO states. Led by the US, NATO is increasingly casting itself as a global player both to defend democracy and the interests of its members. The global reach of NATO and its powerful members nourishes new tensions with rival powers like Russia and China. Its nuclear-armed status raises the terrifying prospect of nuclear war. The NATO summit in Vilnius is meant to confirm and strengthen the global power of NATO and the influence of its military industrial complex. This comes at the expense of an alternative security architecture based on good neighbourliness and human security.

NATO's unilateralism is undermining the multilateral political system as enshrined in the United Nations Charter.

We'll discuss the main problems of NATO and explore how the peace movement can be strengthened to achieve a non-militarised international security system based on justice, solidarity and sustainability with respect for people and the environment.

How to counter Global NATO and strengthen the peace movement?
